

I want to get the food out of this stomach.

The end of the stomach near the small intestine has a large, thick knot of muscle called a sphincter. I cut off that entire knot, making a large hole. You can see the food.

I dump the chewed food in the woods and rinse out the stomach. I put the stomach in my casings bucket.