

This is what the liver looks like with the gall bladder removed.

If I break the gall bladder, it is not a big deal. I wash away the bright green bile with water and cut away everything the bile touched. I put the liver in the "organs for sausages" bucket.