

First, I sort out the meat organs. I start with the liver, because the liver is the most dangerous of the meat organs.

It is dangerous because of this sack. In most pigs, this sack is bright green and really full. I do not know why this one is white and nearly empty.